

NIQUETAN

ABOUT

Nique Tan is a mind magician, and has amazed and entertained both local and overseas audiences with his brand of engaging mind reading performances.

As mystifying as his demonstrations may be, he is not gifted with any psychic abilities. Instead, his work involves using a blend of skills in psychology, influence and magic, to closely mimic psychic phenomena, allowing him to deliver an entertaining and convincing performance.

With well over a decade of professional performance experience, he currently offers a unique brand of mind reading entertainment for special events worldwide.

Highly sought after, he has also been invited to give special performances at private parties for local ministers and politicians, as well as for some of today's top icons and celebrities, including reading the minds of artistes such as Taiwanese pop sensation Jay Chou and local singer Lin Jun Jie.

Nique's engaging mind reading performances have been featured at many events, leaving audiences with an experience that they will talk about long after your event.

SHOWS

Mind Magic is a truly unique and fully interactive show that features a powerful and yet seldom seen form of performance; a performance that explores the mysteries of the human mind. Presented by renowned Mentalist and Psychic Entertainer Nique Tan, Mind Magic is unlike any other show, as it is one that focuses on the thoughts of the audience.

The show begins with light-hearted demonstrations of influence and the power of suggestion, with Nique correctly predicting your every decision before you even think of making them. Completely blindfolded, he identifies random objects of your choosing and even accurately divines the serial number of a bill in your wallet.

In his utterly captivating "Psychic Lucky Draw", he will reveal names of childhood friends, tell you your hobbies, describe childhood memories, reveal the destination of your recent holiday, relate interesting and little known facts about yourself, birthdays, names of loved ones, important dates, pet names, memorable events and reveal thoughts only known to you.

Astonishing both the mind and the imagination, the program is designed to push you closer to the edge of believability, and have you almost believe that it may be possible for Nique to see the very things that you are merely thinking of.

With Nique's enthusiasm for his performance, skillful delivery and tasteful humour, Mind Magic will leave audiences with an experience that lingers.
